TIP FROM THE PROS

Some golfers think position of the club face at set up is key to hitting a straight shot. Well, there is a little more to it than just setting up square to your target. Club and wrist position at the top of the swing is a big key to getting that club face back square at impact. Most beginners and most golfers that have a slice are open at the top of the swing. Not getting square at the top keeps us from being able to get the club in good position on the down swing and also keeps us from getting the club and body rotated through the shot.

RULES WIZARD

Rule 24-2

Taking “complete relief” from Obstruction

Q: What is meant by the phrase, “taking complete relief” from an obstruction?

A: When a player is taking relief from an immovable obstruction, he must determine the point where there is no interference from the lie of ball, stance, and area of intended swing. For example, if the ball lies on a cart path does not interfere with the lie of the ball, his stance, and also the area of intended swing. If the ball comes to rest in such a position, it must be re-dropped (Rule 20-2c(v)).
